

BRITISH ACADEMY OF MANAGEMENT

Becoming a Research-Oriented Professor Development Programme 2025

A programme supporting mid-level academics for whom research is a core element

Our Becoming a Research-Oriented Professor Programme explores the variety of career journeys, barriers and pivotal points in a swiftly changing research policy and funding environment

Our programme objectives include:

- Providing targeted support for mid-career academics who wish to progress to a leadership / management role in research knowledge and intellectual growth
- Offering guidance on writing for publication strategies, including generating impact from published work
- To share and draw out best practice in leading and managing others, achieving success, and research/ intellectual growth
- Expand your peer network beyond your institution
